REV. L. S. MANN BIDS FAREWELL TO BLAIRMORE

The Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Mann and Elizabeth leave for Wisconsin early next week to take up residence in the Parish of Lancaster. It is with many regrets that they so soon bid farewell to Coleman and Blairmore, but as many will know, Mrs. Mann's health has not improved with the altitude, and it is upon medical advice that this move to a lower location is being effected.

The Rector's family wishes to express their gratitude to the members of both churches in the Pass (and to many other friends not solely of the Anglican Persuasion) for the kindness and warm sympathy enjoyed during their brief stay among you. From Churchwardens, F. Graham, H. Bennett, and A. Bourne, Women's Guild, president Mrs. Penney and Mrs. Bennett, obscure worshippers of the two churches, friendly understanding and co-operation have been together. It is therefore with the keenest of our association disappointment at such an early and utterly unpredictable parting that we say, "Goodbye" to everyone.

We pray God bless you all, and send you, soon, a priest whose ministrations and long service will help to adjust your sad fortunes in spiritual leadership over the last three years.

CROWS' NEST PASS BASEBALL LEAGUE HAS SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Crows' Nest Pass Baseball League enjoyed a successful season as teams from Blairmore, Coleman, Hillcrest, Fernie and Michel-Nad competed for the League championship and play-off positions.

The final league standing showed Blairmore as winner of the league title, with Fernie runner-up and Hillcrest and Coleman close behind.

The playoffs for the Ring and Cup were provided new thrilling contests between Coleman and Blairmore and between Hillcrest and Fernie. Coleman eliminated Blairmore two matches to one and Fernie was also forced to the limit in its series with Hillcrest.

On the final Coleman Cubs defeated Fernie 3-1 and 10-5 in matches played at Fernie on Sunday, September 15.

The next two matches will be played at Coleman on Sunday, September 22, with Coleman heavy favorites to "cup" the Ring and Cup. The final series is "best of five."

TRANSFER OF POWER IN INDIA

Almost three hundred and fifty years ago the British connection with India began when Queen Elizabeth gave the East India Company a charter in 1600. On August 15th, 1947, the control of the sub-continent, gradually assumed by Britain over the years, was surrendered to two independent countries, India and Pakistan. Never before in the history of the world has there been a transfer of power on so wide a scale affected by consent rather than by force.

August 15th marked the final and complete transfer of power; there is to be no review or reconsideration on the part of Britain at a later time. The date, originally set for the British withdrawal was June 1948, but the offer made by Lord Mountbatten to the Indian leaders stated that Britain was "willing to anticipate the date of June 1948 for the handing over of power, by the setting up of an independent Indian Government or Governments at an even earlier date." The transfer planned for June 1948, therefore, took place on August 15th, 1947.

Only on constitutional tie with Britain remains, a tie which may be severed at any time by either India or Pakistan. That tie is membership in the British Commonwealth through a common allegiance to the British Crown. But London now exercises no

HILLCREST HAPPENINGS GARDEN — SPENCE

The Hillcrest United church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, Sept. 20th at 1:30 p.m., when Edith, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Spence of Hillcrest became the bride of John Garden, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Garden of Calgary. The marriage service was performed by Dr. Garden, father of the groom, assisted by Rev. McKelvey.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a short length gown of pale blue crepe, with matching elbow length gloves. Her navy hat was trimmed with delicate pale blue flowers. She carried an arm bouquet of carnations.

Mr. Norman Dudley, sister of the bride was matron-of-honor, she was gowned in floral crepe, with elbow length gloves and a small pink hat. Her bouquet was also of carnations.

Kerby Garden, brother of the groom was best man.

Mrs. J. Boorman of Blairmore played the wedding music and during the signing of the register a violin solo "I Love You Truly" was rendered by Mrs. W. H. Moser.

After the ceremony a reception for the immediate relatives was held in the dining room of the Grand Union Hotel. The happy couple left for a honeymoon at Banff, after which Mr. Garden will leave for Toronto to resume his studies at the University. Mrs. Garden will join him there in a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Melzac are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Robert Charles, on Sept. 18 at Kail's maternity home.

Mrs. and Mrs. H. Harrison left on Sunday for a vacation at Kamloops and other Western points.

Friends were glad to learn that Mrs. E. Cockburn is up and around again after a lengthy illness.

Wing Chan left last week for Toronto where he will resume his studies at the University of Toronto.

superintendence or control over the new Dominions. The King is no longer Emperor of India, and his role in the two Dominions is extended solely through their own governments. No Act of the British Parliament passed after August 15 has any validity in either Dominion. There is now no Secretary of State for India, the United Kingdom Cabinet Minister to whom the Viceroy and the whole Government of India used to be responsible.

Posts have been offered by the new governments to a number of British military officers and British members of the Indian Civil Service. Such men while serving, will be solely under the direction of the government concerned and responsible to it; they are subject to no control from Britain. The United Kingdom's commercial interests in India operate under exactly the same conditions as Indian firms; they have no safeguards or special privileges.

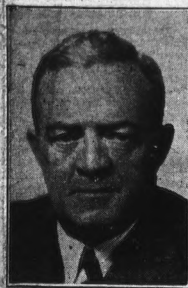

British troops began the withdrawal from India on August 17, and if shipping facilities permit, will all have left India by the end of the year. Britain retains no defence bases in the sub-continent.

Just over a century ago an Englishman of vision foresaw such a friendly transfer of power. Sir Henry Lawrence, the defender of Lucknow and an able, conscientious administrator, wrote in 1844:

"We cannot expect to hold India for ever. Let us so conduct ourselves... as when the connection ceases, it may do so not with convulsions but with mutual esteem and affection, and that England may then have in India a noble ally."

C.P.R. CHANGES

W. A. MATHER

G. H. BAILLIE

J. I. MacKAY

W. F. TULVY

Announcement by W. M. Neal, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, that the system is to be divided into three regions, Pacific, Prairie and Eastern, instead of into western and eastern lines, has brought important changes among C.P.R. personnel in the west. W. A. MATHER, previously vice-president of western lines, becomes vice-president of the Prairie region, retaining his headquarters at Winnipeg. Mr. Mather has had wide experience in the west, having served as superintendent at Regina and Medicine Hat, assistant general superintendent at Vancouver, general superintendent of Calgary, and general manager of western lines. He was made vice-president of western lines in 1942. G. H. BAILLIE is promoted from general manager of western lines to become vice-president of the new Pacific region. Mr. Baillie served as assistant superintendent at Lethbridge and Wynyard, superintendent at Vancouver and Kamloops, and general superintendent at Calgary and Vancouver before becoming general manager at Winnipeg in 1946. J. I. MacKAY moves up from the position of general superintendent of the Manitoba district to become general manager of the Prairie region. Mr. MacKay was earlier superintendent at Nelson, Regina, Calgary and Edmonton. W. F. TULVY, who at one time was located at Fort William and Winnipeg, leaves the position of general superintendent of the Quebec district to succeed Mr. MacKay at Winnipeg.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTON—In Loving Memory of Lilla, who passed away September 27, 1944.

In our hearts she is fondly remembered.
Sweet memories cling to her name; Those who loved her in life sinewy still love her in death just the same.
Ever remembered by Bill and Jean.

JOHNSTON—In Loving Memory of my dear Mum who passed away September 27, 1944.

He brought her up also out of a horrible pain.
Out of the muck and mire,
So her feet upon a rock
And established her a Heavenly way.

—Pamela 40-2.

JOHNSTON—In Loving Memory of dear Lilla (nee Barrell), who left us September 27, 1944.
We could not say a last goodbye
And oh, how dear the pain!
But in God's Home of perfect rest,
We know you'll meet again.
Lovingly remembered by Mum, Sis Dolly and Brother Wilfred.

SNOW STORM DELAYS TRAFFIC

One of the most sudden storms in Pass history occurred last Thursday and Friday when three feet of snow fell in twenty-two hours catching motorists in a mid-winter grip without chains or shovels. The worst section was between Pincher Creek and Lundbreck, some of the motorists having to spend the entire night of Wednesday, September 17 in their cars on the east of Lundbreck. It was fortunate that the temperature did not fall to a low degree as most of the cars were without heaters.

The workers of the Department of Public Works found themselves in a very unfortunate position for their snow equipment was scattered throughout the district. However they attempted to open the highway between Macleod and Crow's Nest.

Traffic was held up at the South Fork hill where a truck loaded with cattle skidded on the highway completely blocking the road. In order to remove the truck a farmer's tractor was used work by this caused more damage by cutting deep runs in the surface of the road. A crew of eight men worked from eleven a.m. Thursday until six p.m. Friday to repair the highway.

The operator of the government snow plough reported that fifteen cars followed him through to Macleod.

A two mile stretch into Pincher station was particularly bad with low spots in the road causing to move at a snail's pace.

The bright sun on Friday made matters worse when the heavy snow melted rapidly and made the road almost impassable.

BIRTHDAY PARTY BIG SUCCESS

Miss Helen Beran's 17th birthday was drawn to a very successful party, the evening of Friday, September 19, at her parental home.

At 8:30 p.m. the crowd of young folk started gathering and by 9 o'clock the party was in full swing. Inside one was greeted with a happy atmosphere of music and laughter. Present were Miss Helen Beran, guest of honor; Misses Violet Battel, Lillian Diamond, Anne Perik, Audrey Pinkney, Barbara Millett, Jean Ennis, Isabel Beran, Frances Mission, Faye Blake and Messrs. Roy Tucker, Rene Diamond, Edgar Diamond, Hugh McBrick Jack Bohm, Angelo Pozzi, Mike Curcio, Andrew Plard and Bruce Hodgins. After everyone was acquainted, and a little dancing had taken place, the guests retired to the dining room for a dainty lunch which had been prepared and awaited the eager.

Mr. Bruce Hodgins presented the toast which everyone enthusiastically responded to. This was followed by a very hearty speech from Mike Curcio on behalf of those present, wishing the guest of honor many more happy birthdays. Then the guest of honor very ably expressed her thanks for the lovely gold bracelet which was presented to her.

While some of the guests played records, others danced and everyone seemed to be having a good time.

The guests left after a delightful evening of fun and merriment.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Mrs. Betty Smith, of Lundbreck, left by train on Monday afternoon for Ottawa where she will attend Business College.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Day returned Monday from a week's visit at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Day and family, at Clearholm.

Mrs. Jack Stashy returned Thursday from a visit of several days with friends in Bellevue.

Owing to inclement weather, harvesting and other farm operations continue to be held up here this week.

Eric Sarchman left Monday for Edmonton where he will spend his second year at the University of Alberta.

A. DeCillis, of Bellevue, has recently been elected proprietorship of the Cowley hotel which he recently purchased from owner who operated the business for around six years.

Hundreds of meadow larks and blue birds were seen here, stranded on their migratory flight in the recent heavy snowstorm.

WORLD FAMOUS FRENCH BOYS' CHOIR COMING TO CANADA

The little singers of Paris, world famous French boys' choir, will arrive in New York on September 20 on a special Air-France Comeng for a concert tour which will include Montreal, New York, Mexico City and Havana. The group of 35 will be accompanied by their Director, Abbe Maillet.

After a short trip to Canada, the Little Singers — whose French name is "Les Petits Chanteurs de la Croix de Bois" — will return to New York for their American premiere at Carnegie Hall, which is scheduled for October 11.

The choir, founded in Paris in 1907, has been internationally known since 1931. It has sung in practically every European country, Canada and North Africa. Its repertoire consists mainly of religious and old French music.

Research And Progress

DURING THE WAR GREAT PROGRESS was made through scientific research. Because of the fact that almost from the beginning, it was realized that weapons developed both for offense and defence were likely to be the decisive factor in the winning of the war, unprecedented resources in personnel and money were allocated to scientific work. The development of the atom bomb, which ended the war, proved the inestimable value of this work to the United Nations. The magnitude of the results obtained when great sums of money and large staffs of trained workers were made available for research has caused the public to question why such results cannot be continued in time of peace, in medical, industrial and agricultural research where there are so many problems, the solution of which would add greatly to the comfort and prosperity of mankind. While they may not be as urgent as the problems of war, there is little doubt as to their importance to our social and economic progress.

U.S. Report Of Interest Here

In the United States recently the National Scientific Research Board recommended that one per cent. of the national income should be spent for research. In that country such an expenditure would amount to $200,000,000. The board called the development of research work "a major factor in national survival" and based the great need on the facts that normal sources of scientific knowledge in Europe have been "dried up" and that it is most important that a new generation of scientists should be produced on this continent "with will think boldly and daringly." The report suggested that 44 per cent. of the available money should be spent on non-military research, 14 per cent. for medical research and 52 per cent. for military purposes. Since Canada has been closely associated with the United States in the field of scientific research this report, although presented to the American government, should be of interest to Canadians.

Urgent Need In Medicine

If Canada were to spend one per cent. of the national income, the amount recommended by the American Scientific Research Board, the sum spent annually on research here would amount to approximately $100,000,000, which is a great deal more than is at present allocated to such work. In Canada considerable research is done by the National Research Council, the universities and private industries. However, there are now no large concentrated efforts such as those which proved so effective during the war. Most people agree as to the urgency of solving many of the present problems in medicine. Methods of curing or preventing cancer, polio-myelitis and other diseases which yearly cost the country so much in human suffering and in money, cannot be found too soon, yet resources are not available to bring about rapid solutions to these problems. In industry and in agriculture there are likewise great needs for improvements which could be brought about through scientific research. If it is, indeed, "a major factor in national survival" as the United States scientists suggest, Canadians should encourage any efforts which may be made to further such work in this country.

"GENTLEMAN FRED'S" BURGLARING CAREER ENDANGERED BY DEAFNESS, COUNSEL SAYS

LONDON.—The case of an aging burglar, who, defending counsel said, was "just his best years of crime" because he was getting deaf and couldn't hear how much noise he made on a "job," was featured in the London newspapers.

A kindly word was devoted to the plight of 71-year-old "Gentleman Fred" Harding who would like to go straight but who pleaded guilty at Old Bailey to a charge of breaking into a Kensington apartment and stealing £250 ($1,000) worth of jewelry.

There were several character witnesses to back up the high regard the police had for Fred when he was not stealing. The grocer for whom Fred worked—in the daytime—said the accused had "a very kind streak in his nature" and often gave away candy to the neighborhood children which he had bought with his own money and coupons.

Police also have a high professional respect for Fred. The constable who arrested him told the court, "On searching him at a police station they found 123 keys in Harding's pockets."

"Don't say they," said Fred. "I make 'em myself. Get me into out of anywhere, they would," Fred said.

"All right, say if they can get you out of here," said the detective on duty, locking the massive station door.

Fred selected one of the bunch and within a few seconds the door swung open again.

"He assures me he's through with crime," said counsel.

Said the judge: "But I am worried about these skeleton keys—two years."

FREAK GOPHERS HAVE SPECIAL PLACE AT ZOO

Gophers, which are the bane of farmers, have a special place among the exhibits at the Calgary zoo, mainly because they are special gophers.

The exhibit might be named "Night and Day" for it includes a black gopher and two Albinoes. The coal black rodent arrived recently from Craigville, where it was trapped this summer on the farm of Ed. Kittredge. One of the white gophers was also caught in the Craigville district.

The fattening qualities of a big juicy apple, a large orange and a medium-sized baked potato are the same.

Valuable Sugar Beet Crop To Be Harvested

While Smaller Than Record Tonnage Of 1946 Harvest Will Be Greater In Value

CALGARY.—Harvesting of the most valuable crop of sugar beets ever produced in Southern Alberta is in progress, says T. George Wood, general manager of Canadian Sugar Factories, Ltd., for which all commercial sugar beets raised in Alberta are grown under contract.

It is estimated this year's crop of beets, to be harvested on 29,200 acres, will return in the neighborhood of $5,000,000 to the 1,400 Southern Alberta farmers raising sugar beets on irrigated land. Last year's crop is expected to return growers approximately $4,700,000 by the time the final payment is made this fall.

While smaller than the record tonnage of 1946, this year's crop is expected to have a greater value by virtue of the higher price anticipated.

Despite extremely adverse harvesting conditions last fall and the loss of some beets which could not be recovered after being frozen in the ground and blanketed by ice and snow, the 1946 crop amounted to approximately 387,000 tons of beets dehydrated, setting an all-time record tonnage for the industry in Alberta. Another record was set by the extraction of some 109,000,000 pounds of sugar from the crop.

The size of the 1947 crop was boosted substantially by drenching rains after the middle of the month, leaving wood estimates that this year's crop will average about 1 1/2 tons an acre to over yield.

He said the crop this year is better than average and, he felt, that it would run slightly higher than the average Southern Alberta crop yield of 12 1/2 tons an acre. It was not likely, he added, that the 1947 tonnage would exceed the total tonnage of beets harvested last year.

The approaching harvesting season will see mechanical beet harvesting machinery receive its first real try-out in Alberta. Besides about 300 mechanical beet loaders, about 15 beet harvesting combines, which top, dig and load beets—will be in operation.

General feeling of officials of the beet processing companies and of the Beet Growers Association is that the price for 1946 beets will exceed $12 a ton and that for 1947 beets will go over $13.

Paid for their beets as sugar from them is sold, growers now have received $11.10 a ton for their 1946 beets and will draw at least one more payment.

Tests Being Made To Forecast Crop

If Successful Will Save Thousands Of Dollars To The Prairie Farmers

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask.—Experiments in crop forecasting now under way at the Dominion experimental farm here may make much of the risk from one of agriculture's riskiest propositions—prairie wheat farming.

If successful, experiments supervised by Dr. J. L. Doughty, chief of the farm's soil laboratory, will help farmers discover if there is enough moisture in the soil at seeding time to give them a fighting chance of harvesting a crop and will save thousands of dollars worth of seed, literally wasted every year on land that is too dry to produce wheat in commercial quantities.

Soil experts here point out that an annual average rainfall in the brown soil zone of Saskatchewan comprising the vast southwest corner of the province—is insufficient for even an average crop and the deficiency must be made up from moisture retained in the soil. But unless the land contains enough moisture—roughly the equivalent of three inches of rain—the farmer's chances of a crop are slim.

Dr. Doughty said that 10 years or more may be needed to complete tests being carried on here and at experimental stations. But records garnered during the last eight years have established that throughout the brown-soil belt, approximately 10 1/2 inches of rain are needed annually for a crop yielding averaging 14 bushels per acre.

But 100 engines every 24 hours. It used to take workers two hours and 55 minutes to do one locomotive by hand.

FUNNY And OTHERWISE

Mayor—I never saw the park littered so with paper as it is this morning. How do you account for it?

Superintendent—The Park Commissioner had leaflets distributed yesterday asking people not to throw paper about.

"What's the matter, Jockins?" demanded the bootshop manager. "Can't you help the customer?"

"No, sir," replied the assistant. "He's trying to find two shoes that squeak in the same key."

Mistress (to cook at 5:45 p.m.): "I know it's the third time this week, Mary, but my husband just phoned from the golf club and he's bringing three men to dinner. How long will you need to get ready?"

Mary: "I'm ready now, I packed my trunk the last time it happened."

"Did you order your silverware by mail?" asked the first recent bride.

"Well," replied the other, "I sent out 65 wedding invitations to out-of-town relatives, if that's what you mean."

Little Agnes was so provoked that she had fallen out of bed that she could scarcely eat her breakfast.

"How did you happen to fall out, dear?" mother asked.

"I really don't know, mother," the little one replied, "unless it was because I slept too close to where I got in."

Two women were taking a stroll near Hollywood Boulevard when a man with a red flag rushed out and waved them away.

"Don't go there," he shouted. "A movie is being shot."

"Well," retorted one of the women, "if it's the one I saw last night it deserves to be shot."

Two married men were discussing their joys and sorrows.

"My wife," said one, "is very poetic. She gets up at sunrise and says 'Lo, the morn!'"

"Huh!" said the other sadly. "Mine says 'Mow the lawn!'"

"Yes," said the explorer, "once I was so hungry that I dined off my pet parrot."

"What was it like?"

"Oh, very nice."

"Yes, but what did it taste like?"

"Oh, (turkey, chicken, wild duck, that parrot could imitate anything."

A man weighing 300 pounds who entered a U.S. recruiting station said he hadn't come to enlist but just wanted to look round. The officials assured him that he did.

"Sorry to hear your engagement is broken off, old man."

"I'll get over it. But the worst blow was when she returned my ring marked 'Glas—Handle With Care'."

Doughty, chief of the farm's soil laboratory, will help farmers discover if there is enough moisture in the soil at seeding time to give them a fighting chance of harvesting a crop and will save thousands of dollars worth of seed, literally wasted every year on land that is too dry to produce wheat in commercial quantities.

Soil experts here point out that an annual average rainfall in the brown soil zone of Saskatchewan comprising the vast southwest corner of the province—is insufficient for even an average crop and the deficiency must be made up from moisture retained in the soil. But unless the land contains enough moisture—roughly the equivalent of three inches of rain—the farmer's chances of a crop are slim.

Dr. Doughty said that 10 years or more may be needed to complete tests being carried on here and at experimental stations. But records garnered during the last eight years have established that throughout the brown-soil belt, approximately 10 1/2 inches of rain are needed annually for a crop yielding averaging 14 bushels per acre.

Tests Being Made To Forecast Crop

If Successful Will Save Thousands Of Dollars To The Prairie Farmers

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask.—Experiments in crop forecasting now under way at the Dominion experimental farm here may make much of the risk from one of agriculture's riskiest propositions—prairie wheat farming.

If successful, experiments supervised by Dr. J. L. Doughty, chief of the farm's soil laboratory, will help farmers discover if there is enough moisture in the soil at seeding time to give them a fighting chance of harvesting a crop and will save thousands of dollars worth of seed, literally wasted every year on land that is too dry to produce wheat in commercial quantities.

Soil experts here point out that an annual average rainfall in the brown soil zone of Saskatchewan comprising the vast southwest corner of the province—is insufficient for even an average crop and the deficiency must be made up from moisture retained in the soil. MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE POSTPONES WEDDING—Wedding bells will not ring in October for Dorothy Stumpf, 19, who was committed for trial in Kitchener, Ont., on a charge of murder manslaughter. The pretty twenty-winter in a local industry was charged, in addition, with failure to have an operator's permit, dangerous driving and having illegal possession of liquor following the death of seven-year-old Dennis Hartung at Knollwood camp, Aug. 22. Miss Stumpf had planned to be married to her girlhood boy friend, James Kennedy, on Oct. 4, the day following her birthday. After the preliminary hearing before Magistrate H. R. Polson, she said she had postponed the wedding indefinitely because the "case has upset me terribly and has caused me a great deal of worry and sorrow."

NEW YORK.—A giant washing machine that will launder an electric locomotive in 15 minutes has been completed at the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The huge semi-automatic machine will be used to scrub, rinse and polish some 100 engines every 24 hours. It used to take workers two hours and 55 minutes to do one locomotive by hand.

The machine is some 300 feet long and towers about 15 feet above each side of the track.

RECIPES

PAUL USHERS IN COOL

WEATHER DISHES

Hearty, homespun foods are popular when the first frosts put an edge on the family appetites. The fragrance of bacon and cornbread on a chilly morning is something to awaken happy memories of days when breakfasts were meals to be reckoned with; of country kitchens with the wood crackling in the stove; of youngsters shuffling through piles of crimson leaves. People like to remember the old family traditions, but mostly they are nostalgic about the dishes mother used to make; the pies, the biscuits, the sweet pickles made from tiny cucumbers, the fried apples and similar delights. These hearty homespun foods belong to cold weather. There is the job of filling up—and well they do it. Here are some stick-to-the-ribs dishes you'll remember:

Baked Corn And Sausage
 1/2 pound link or bulk sausage
 1/2 cup chopped onion
 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 2 1/2 cups whole kernel corn
 2 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
 1 cup oven-popped rice cereal
 If bulk sausage is used, form into shape of link sausages. Brown sausage in heavy frying pan; drain well. Brown onion and pepper in meat drippings. Add flour and seasonings and mix well. Add corn and tomatoes and simmer until juice has partially evaporated (about 1/2 hour). Pour into casserole; arrange browned sausages on top like the spokes of a wheel. Sprinkle rice cereal over top. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 deg. F.) about 15 minutes. Yield: 6-8 servings (1 1/2 quart casserole).

Breaded Pork Chops
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 1 tablespoon water
 1 teaspoon salt
 4 pork chops
 3 cups corn flakes
 2 tablespoons fat
 Beat together egg, water and salt. Dip pork chops in egg mixture, then in corn flakes which have been crushed into fine crumbs; repeat. Brown on both sides in hot fat. Cover and cook over low heat about 30 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

Finds Magnetic Pole Moved 200 Miles In 20 Years

OTTAWA.—With the North Magnetic Pole tucked away in its place for another year, scientists can go back to their magnetic charts and figure out what it means to world navigation.

A youthful field worker of the Dominion conservatory, Paul H. Serson, 23, of Ottawa, flew back to the capital with the information that the pole has shifted some 200 miles north in the last 50 years, and now revolves around Somerset and Prince of Wales Islands in Canada's Arctic—roughly centred at latitude 73 north, longitude 90 west. This is almost directly north of Churchill, about 1,000 miles south of the true North Pole.

SEEK DATA IN ARCTIC

Health LEAGUE OF CANADA presents TOPICS OF VITAL INTEREST

DON'T GIVE UP TOO EASILY

In view of the large number of drowning fatalities that have been reported this year, the advice of Dr. Gordon Bates of the Health League of Canada is worth the attention of all. Too often, Dr. Bates declares, artificial respiration has not been continued long enough to be certain that life is extinct. As a result, it is only fair to conclude, some unfortunate victims have been given up for dead when their lives might have been saved by continued effort.

Any one who has had experience with the rescue of drowning casualties can recall instances in which unconscious persons have been revived after almost every one present had given up hope. Dr. Bates himself points to cases of successful resuscitation in which the victim had been under water for nearly half an hour before being rescued. The fact underlines the importance of continuing artificial respiration as long as the slightest hope for recovery remains.

Applying artificial respiration requires the expenditure of more physical effort than is generally credited. It is not hard to understand the discouragement that follows when, after many long minutes of hard work, the victim shows no sign of life—no pulse, no heart beat, no eye reflex. But the knowledge that life can be saved after as long as four hours of artificial respiration should keep rescuers working, in relays, until the onset of rigor mortis proves that death has indeed occurred.

Any one vacationing near water would do well to remember Dr. Bates' three essentials for reviving drowning victims. They are:
 1. Clear the air passage by pulling out tongue and any other obstruction.
 2. Apply artificial respiration (preferably the Schaeffer method).
 3. Keep artificial respiration up for at least four hours, or until rigor mortis sets in.

ORDINARY PREJUDICES GOVERNED BY SIGHT

Did you ever think of the curious fact that if you were blind, you would have to get someone to tell you the race of most individuals you might meet—assuming, of course, that there was nothing in their speech to give a hint of any difference in race? The fact is that a great many of the ordinary prejudices that divide the human family would disappear if the gift of sight were suddenly taken from us.

DROPPED IN TRANSIT

PORT WAYNE, Ind.—When a farmer found a woman's purse in his wheat field, police were afraid its owner might have met with foul play. But Margaret Fernie Rennie, Detroit, said she had dropped it from an airplane while she took a short "joy ride".

Dollar Bills Very Scarce In China

SHANGHAI.—Blacksmith Chou Chu-jin thought himself fortunate when the judge fined him one Chinese dollar in a slander case—but the smallest change he could find in all Shanghai was a $10,000 note. (Single dollars have been out of circulation nearly two years, and it now takes 400 of them to equal one cent.)

Chou searched Shanghai for days and eventually offered the court a $10,000 note (25 cents) but the judge said the fine was $1, no more, no less. Eight days after he was fined, Chou found the dollar bill.

TO FORM WORLD FOOD COUNCIL

GENEVA.—The United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization conference unanimously decided to establish a World Food Council. The new council will not be as powerful as the World Food Board proposed by Sir John Boyd Orr, director-general of FAO at the organization's last assembly at Copenhagen. It will be only an advisory body.

What They Say About The Crusaders' Cavalcade
The Moderator, Rev. T. W. Jones, M. A., D. D.:

"The Cavalcade is the greatest opportunity ever presented to show to the public the claims of the Church in Canada and this opportunity presented through the various departments of the Church." Rev. W. D. Atchison, of Cornwall:

"We were greatly inspired by the Cavalcade and feel that it will bring a great contribution to the life of the Church. Our Crusaders are well going on and have no wasted 217 people who have played themselves to the Kingdom of God."

Dr. H. B. Clarke:

"This is the first thing we have had in Kingston since I have been here."

Rev. Bruce Balliett:

"As far as Owen Sound is concerned it was a great success."

Rev. Walter Crawford:

"The Bradford Cavalcade visit is now passed into history. Everyone agreed that it was a great success."

Rev. John M. Smith, of Simcoe:

"Thanks for the Cavalcade. I believe that the impression on our Presbytery and district was great. This Cavalcade in my estimation will do things for the Church."

Rev. Harold Johnson, of Mitchell:

"It is to you who should send the thanks to you people for planning the Cavalcade and sending it through the country. All speakers were good."

Rev. Mervin Burry, of Lincoln Road, Walkerville:

"Our people were delighted and inspired by the entire Programme and Exhibit."

Rev. J. C. Britton, of Thamesville:

"I feel that the whole enterprise of the Cavalcade is one of the most worthwhile things that have been attempted in recent years."

From Kent Presbytery:

"Glad in the memory of even the veterans of our Church has so much interest in our vast and varied enterprises been aroused, as during the four days the Crusaders' Cavalcade was in Chatham."

Rev. J. Morley Colling, of Chatham:

"The Cavalcade stirred the entire city and has left in the minds of

Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, M. B. E., B. D.

Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, M.B.E., B.D. is a graduate of McGill and Queen's University. He received his B.D. in Union College, Vancouver, and spent in India as a Missionary in 1927, where he spent 12 years. During the last war he served as a Chaplain with the rank of Squadron Leader and was awarded the M. B. E. for his services.

Mr. Ashford was appointed as Field Secretary for Western Canada for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund in 1945 and has been serving the Church in that capacity since that time. He is a fervent speaker and there is a demand for his services wherever he is known.

Sweden. In 1937 he was loaned by the Roman Mission of the United Church of Canada to the International Red Cross as a Field Director for Central China during the Sino-Japanese conflict. In June, 1938, he was sent by the Red Cross to Hankow to London as a delegate to the International Red Cross meeting, and to promote the raising of funds for Red Cross work. In December, 1938, he attended the International Missionary Council meeting at Madras as the only medical missionary among China's delegates, returning early in 1939 to China to resume his work for the China Red Cross. For over a year he was in charge of the transport of medical supplies from abroad to various areas in Southwest and West China. This involved his travelling extensively through the Provinces of Kweichow, Guangxi, Hunan, Kweichow, Yunnan and Szechuan in South and West China, and also in French Indo-China, and on the Burma Road. From June, 1941, to June, 1946, he was the Medical Director of the Friends' Ambulance Unit in China. Dr. McClure is one of the most enterprising, versatile and dynamic missionaries in all China. He is probably more intimate than any other Canadian with the recent conflict in China and with leaders of the government in China and of the so-called Communists.

He is a missionary of the Board of Overseas Missions of the United Church of Canada and is supported by Bloor Street United Church, Toronto. His wife is Amy Hishop of Whitby, Ontario. They have three daughters and one son.

Dr. McClure is now on furlough and expects to rejoin our Mission in North China, China, in 1947.

The Crusaders' Cavalcade Comes To Town.

The Church is using modern methods of presenting the life and work in the Crusaders' Cavalcade sponsored by the United Church of Canada, there is an exhibition of the program of this large Protestant denomination in Canada. Not only is the work of each of the Boards and Departments of this Church displayed in a modern style, but the challenge which faces the people of the world and particularly those of this United Church is dramatically portrayed.

Information about the United Church of Canada is brought home to visitors to this Exhibit on large, well-illustrated poster panels, using carefully selected photographs, paintings, illustrations and vivid charts. A great deal of time and talent and money has gone into the preparation of this fine display.

A converted Army Van has been employed to convey this Exhibit from place to place. During the time the Crusaders' Cavalcade is on view, the van will be used as a mobile public address unit to announce the meetings, and in conjunction with some special evangelistic meetings in the area.

The Crusaders' Cavalcade will be on display in the BLAIRMORE UNITED CHURCH on Oct. 7th and 8th. This is an open to the public at all times. Admission is free. In connection with the visit of the Cavalcade many meetings are being held with a team of speakers who are leaders in many parts of the United Church of Canada.

The people of Blairmore are being given an opportunity to visit this up-to-date presentation of the work of the United Church of Canada. They will see the Church in action at home in the Dominion and Newfound, and overseas in eight great areas outside of Canada. This is surely something well worth seeing.

Editorial on Crusaders' Cavalcade appears in "The United Church Observer", December 15th, issue.

ADVENTURING FOR CHRIST

The United Church Cavalcade has now been on the road for nearly three months. In that time the results have surpassed those who originated it and have won the admiration and support of the laity. In short, the Cavalcade has been a great success.

Thousands of people have visited the exhibit heard the story of the Church by word of mouth, over the air, in public meetings, or in school assemblies. These factors among others have contributed to the success of this venture. The first is the soundness of the idea. For the first time the whole work of the Church has been set forth in dramatic form in which the public can see the Church in action.

The Cavalcade is not a static thing. It is a part of the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom and it is designed to stir into the spiritual life of the Church the power of the Gospel.

The real test of this as of any other spiritual movement is the effect it has on the lives of the people and the life of the communities served. Witnessing for Christ has ever been a fundamental and dynamic feature in Christian experiences and in spreading the Gospel. In recent years such witnessing has been left almost wholly to the ministers. While the Church family should not be content to let the Gospel be preached by a few, it should be a challenge to a life of service with the Church. This need was never greater. There is an urgent demand for witnesses and for recruits for the ministry. Hardly a day passes but we have appeals for men and women to serve the Church. Doctors are needed, agriculturalists, nurses, educators, girls who will act as nurses' aids and many others. Conscientious people in almost any walk of life can find in the Church an opportunity for full-time service. If after all the sowing and cultivating of the past years, the harvest is to be garnered, it must be reaped by the pastoral charges. No matter how many people may be a part of the Church, we cannot have a community, these who can secure redemption of life, increased support of the Church's enterprises, and full-time workers in the Church are the primary consideration. This is their responsibility.

The Crusaders' Cavalcade Exhibit of the United Church of Canada is coming to the Crow's Nest Pass in the converted Army Van shown above. Since Blairmore is the most convenient centre for the people of the Pass, the Exhibit will be on display in Blairmore United Church on October 7 and 8. Afternoon and evening meetings will be held with outstanding speakers from across the Dominion and from far across the seas. To see this Exhibit and hear these speakers is a privilege that comes once in a lifetime.

The Crusaders' Cavalcade is currently touring Canada and will travel from coast to coast within the next two years. Much success has met this venture of the church. The Crusaders' Cavalcade is a part of the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom, a post-war endeavor of the United Church of Canada to strengthen the spiritual life of the people of this largest Protestant denomination in Canada. One of the main purposes of the Cavalcade is to challenge young people to full time service in preaching, teaching or healing ministries in the United Church at home and overseas. Many young people have responded to this call, it is said.

THE PRIME MINISTER'S STATEMENT

By REV. J. C. THOMPSON, B. A.

When we set aside, The members of both Houses sat together as churchmen confident that the Christian faith was the only adequate abiding power. The Prime Minister was invited to address the group. After a few brief remarks and other remarks, the Prime Minister said:

"The Church must play its part in the development of society in our country. There are forces at work in the world today, terrifying forces. I feel very strongly on the importance of these forces, and realize fully the great part the different churches play in the development of society in our country. The spirit of the Christian Church is disappearing all too rapidly, and in its place is growing the terrible forces of totalitarianism, and the underlying forces that are giving direction to it. It is the animosity of the Christian religion, and indeed of the Christian spirit, which is giving direction to it. It is the animosity of the Christian religion, and indeed of the Christian spirit, which is giving direction to it. It is the animosity of the Christian religion, and indeed of the Christian spirit, which is giving direction to it."

A word of caution is perhaps not out of place. The Cavalcade has demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt that the people of this country are deeply interested in all that the Church has to say and in the work that it is doing both at home and abroad, and yet the purpose of the Cavalcade would be defeated were it to stop at that. The Cavalcade is not a static thing. It is a part of the Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom and it is designed to stir into the spiritual life of the Church the power of the Gospel.

The real test of this as of any other spiritual movement is the effect it has on the lives of the people and the life of the communities served. ## Miss IDA MACKENZIE, B. R. E.

Miss MacKenzie went from teaching in the Province of New Brunswick to the work of the Women's Missionary Society. After graduation from the United Church Training School, Toronto, her first years of Missionary work were spent among people of many national backgrounds at the Church of All Nations, Montreal, and the All Peoples Church, Hamilton.

In 1939 Miss MacKenzie was appointed Field Secretary of the W.M.S. and in that capacity she has travelled in all the conferences of our Church. It was on her last furlough that she received her degree in Religious Education from the School of Religious Education, Hartford, Connecticut.

Miss MacKenzie is a very effective speaker who is in great demand among W.M.S. workers.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

GREETINGS TO GRANDMA

BY HOLLY WHELEN

YOU positively couldn't, Lou reflect, apprehensively, count on how children would behave in any given situation. But how she wished she might, this once, be confident of her own youngsters' perfect conduct!

Fleetingly she regretted that seven-year-old Pete, and Danny, his year-younger brother, weren't little girls. Maybe then she could anticipate their appearance in the living room in garments not resembling something that should have been donated, long ago, to a cast-off clothing collection. Perhaps she'd have had better luck at teaching two small daughters to sit politely in chairs, before company, instead of getting sudden notions to engage in a wrestling match.

But Pete and Danny were darlings! Ordinarily she wouldn't have considered exchanging one of them for even that little charmer, Margaret O'Brien. Besides, Pete Senior's parents, their letters said, were so glad they had two grandsons to carry on the family name.

Would they still feel that way after their visit to Hilltown? They hadn't ever visited the children before Pete's fatal automobile accident. They hadn't even come in those awful days immediately after. Of course they weren't young any more and it was easy to picture them as they were, by grief to travel, as they written.

Lou couldn't lose the thought, though, that Pete's parents would have preferred not having Lou at the scene at all. Pete, their only son, had been just out of college when the firm he'd worked for had transferred him here. She'd been a stenographer in the Hilltown office and from the first time Pete had grinned at her and she'd grinned back she'd known it was love.

The two of them had gone alone one Saturday afternoon, to the little church she'd attended since childhood and been married. Pete hadn't written his folks about it until later.

They'd sent back a very correct and impersonal letter. Pete's invited them for a visit, but got only a promise to come at some indefinite future time.

Lou knew why they were making the journey now. They were realizing Pete's children were all they had left of Pete.

But they hadn't really forgotten

those children were Lou's as well! They'd written, saying they were coming to Hilltown and would like to see their grandchildren. But they'd added they were going to stay with friends of theirs who'd recently moved there. Evidently they intended to appreciate Pete's sons as they would a bond or a car before they committed themselves!

That made Lou furious. But she had, too, a fear that turned her shaky inside. She'd gone back to work after Pete's death. His firm had given her a secretarial job. One of her neighbors, a middle-aged widow, looked after Pete and Danny from the time school was out until Lou reached home. Her salary added to the monthly payment from Pete's insurance helped them get along comfortably.

But what would Pete's mother think of it? Lou'd come into contact, before, with people who couldn't understand the difference a few dollars made in another person's life. Probably Pete's mother would be wearing a hat that cost more than Lou made in a week.

What if the children's grandparents thought Pete and Danny weren't being reared right? What if they attempted to take them away from Lou?

Pete's parents, expected to arrive Saturday, but they weren't sure of the exact hour as they were driving. They'd telephoned her from their friends' home, she'd written, then come see the boys.

Lou decided the safest course was to have the children ready to go. She supervised the boys' bath, then left them to don the new suits she'd bought for the occasion. When she returned to inspect the final result, their room was empty.

Frankly she searched the house. The boys were nowhere to be found! There was a school hike into the woods today. Pete and Danny'd raised no objection when she'd explained why they couldn't go. But they'd gone, anyway. Disobeyed her—

Just when Pete's parents would discover it and draw their own conclusions. And they'd gone off with their brand-new outfits! Lou shuddered, remembering the condition a hike produced in even sturdy denim. She couldn't catch up with them now. There was absolutely nothing for her to do but sit there, hour after hour, waiting for the telephone to ring, hoping the boys would return first.

Finally the sound of the doorbell brought her to her feet. And there was Danny, poking his twisted head around the door and calling out "Mummy!" Pressing the button was Pete! Beside him and holding on to her younger son's hands were a distinguished looking man and woman. Lou recognized them from Pete's collection of photographs. "The children's grand-parents! But how had they all come together?"

In the living room, she learned, Pete and Danny had travelled all the way across town to the apartment house where their grandparent's friends lived. And they'd sat on the street curb outside it, since morning, waiting for the car they were watching for to drive up, confident they'd know their grand-parents from their pictures.

And their grandparents had known them. "Because they're Pete all over again," Pete's father explained, smiling at Lou.

"But a hundred times more polite!" the grandmother added. "I told Dad they must've had wonderful training. I was never able to produce manners like theirs in Pete when he was that age! The nice way they told us how happy they were we'd come to see them at last—well, we decided we'd like nothing better than to stay as close to them as we could. You don't mind our coming directly here? They insisted you be glad."

"Oh, I am—truly," Lou assured them.

It was when she got the two boys into the kitchen that Lou dared breathe. "Whatever in the world put that idea into your head?"

Danny answered first. "Gosh, I was worried about whether they'd like me, then I thought maybe they were worried about whether we'd like them. And going to meet them would show we did."

"And we remembered what you said about being polite," Pete put in. "When you're watching us, before company, it always makes us

STUDIES IN SOIL EROSION PROVING PRESENT FARMING METHODS NOT CAUSING DAMAGE

The Dominion Experimental Station at Swift Current in addition to its usual work, has made also during the past 20 years or so, some remarkable investigations into the use of moisture by the wheat plant, reports H. G. L. Strange, research director of Seale Grain Co. Ltd. First under the direction of the late Sydney Barnes and now under the direction of the scientist Dr. J. L. Doughty, some quite unexpected and unlooked for results have been found.

One of these announced by Dr. Doughty recently at Lethbridge at the meeting of the Agricultural Institute, surprised most people. It was to the effect that the present system of farming on these prairies is not causing, as some people think, a rapid deterioration of the soil. In other words, it would appear that if water erosion and wind erosion can be controlled, that we can go on growing wheat and grains on these prairies for long, long periods of time without suffering from decline in yield per acre.

This is a comforting thing to know, because so many people think that the so-called prairie "wheat-miners" are rapidly exhausting the fertility of the soil and that in a few years these prairies will not be able to grow any more grain. So the so-called "wheat-miner," it appears, can be absolved from blame.—Canadian Finance.

nervous and self-conscious 'cause we know you're afraid we'll make a mistake. But by ourselves we just try to make people feel good. Isn't that a good way to be polite, too?"

"The very best," Lou said, reinforcing her words with a hug.

Suggests Labor Day Be Observed Later In Month

Will Have The Effect Of Extending Tourist Season

OTTAWA. — The suggestion that Labor Day might be observed on the second or third Monday in September rather than on the first and thus have the effect of extending the tourist season, is contained in the monthly statement of ports of highway traffic at Canadian border points, published under the authority of Hon. James Mackinnon, minister of trade and commerce.

"The tradition of observing the first Monday of September as Labor Day will have a shortening influence on the current tourist season," the report states.

"It's postponement until a later day (for 1943), would prove most popular with the youngsters who start back to school the day after Labor Day, and with all concerned with the tourist industry."

"Some of the finest weather of the year is often experienced in the early weeks of September. To crowd the vacation time of a huge number of potential travellers into three months is a strain."

"Many are disappointed. The summer bulge could be smoothed out somewhat by a greater volume in May, June and September." A later date for Labor Day would be of considerable assistance through extending the fall season, the report indicates.

Compulsory Saving Refund Cheques Are Being Prepared

OTTAWA.—Government sources said the revenue department already has started work on the 1,500,000 cheques which will go out to taxpayers next spring in the first payoff of the refundable portion of the 1942 compulsory savings.

The payment is expected to total $50,000,000, collected in 1942 when the government introduced compulsory income tax savings to provide additional money for governmental expenditures and to draw off surplus purchasing power.

The payment probably will be made next March and will be non-taxable.

Worth working for!

Watching the men at work on his new barn, Jim thinks of the friendly talk he had with his bank manager. "I've got good land and I can work it. With a little extra money I can really make a dream come true..."

So Jim got his bank loan. Soon, there'll be new farm equipment... improved livestock... a well filled granary. More work for the community, more farm products, more food for home and export.

Helping people in all walks of life to profit from their own enterprise and industry is one of the chief functions of Canadian banks.

THIS IS ONE INSTANCE OF how Canada's 53,000 branch banks play their part in the daily life and work of Canadians.

Sunday, the 28, will be Rally Day at Central United Church at 11 a.m. given by the S.S. children to which all parents and friends of the congregation are invited. At the evening service the sermon topic will be "Whom will ye serve," and a junior choir will be in attendance.

We had an unique experience last Saturday afternoon, when a truck parked at the curb some forty feet away from the front of the premises appeared to have a tire blow out and shower the windows with gravel. This is generally reserved for a vehicle in motion.

Had another last week. We were appealed to for a few sheets of paper to make drawing tickets, and gladly obliged, gladly perforated the sheets and stitched them into books—of course, from a couple of scribbles we had no use for. Then we had to buy the first 25¢ ticket, and failed to win the cloth and cushion.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Offhand you might say that there is no connection between having a hobby and being successful in your work.

"But all of us need the relaxing effect of a hobby to counter-balance the strain of hard work."

"Fun is a tonic," says Dr. G. S. Stevenson, eminent mental hygiene authority. "It refreshes us when we are tired or bored with our routine tasks — gives us new strength and enthusiasm for the business of living."

If you have no particular hobby, such as fishing, gardening or photography, you will be well advised to choose one. Or if you indulge in a hobby only rarely, you ought to devote time to it more regularly.

As a result, you'll be happier and probably healthier. And you'll surely do a better job!

P.S. An acquaintance of mine made wooden trays as a hobby. They were so handsome that many of his friends wanted to buy them and soon he had a flourishing full-time business. Such cases are not uncommon.

You'll enjoy life even more with the peace of mind that life insurance brings. It has provided for the future security of millions of Canadians since 1847.
